

ANDY CALLS ON MAJOR ED DAMES TO STEP FORWARD AND REVEAL HIS ROLE IN DARPA'S PROJECT PEGASUS

Andrew D. Basiago

Major Ed Dames

In furtherance of his campaign to urge the US government to declassify its secret teleportation technology so that teleportation can be used to revolutionize transportation in the 21st century, Andrew D. Basiago is calling on prominent Americans who served in DARPA's Project Pegasus to step forward, publicly acknowledge their involvement in the secret US time-space program of the 1970's, and affirm his call for the declassification of teleportation. One of these individuals is Major Ed Dames, who worked with Andy exploring future events in the Montauk chair during "the first summer of 1971" that Andy spent secretly in New Mexico while time traveling for Project Pegasus. Major Dames is publicly associated with the field of "remote viewing" as a result of his appearances on Coast-to-Coast AM and psychic services consultancy, Psi Tech, but he was a Project Pegasus insider and as such was involved in the development of devices that provide "quantum access" to past and future events. In this e-mail, written by Andy upon accepting Major Dames' "friend request" on Facebook, Andy calls on Dames to reveal his role in Project Pegasus and join his campaign so that teleportation can be used to advantage all human beings on Earth.

Dear Ed,

Forty years have passed since we served together on Project Pegasus. I think it is incumbent upon you to now step forward and end "the High Psi Cover-up" that has been architected to conceal the US government's time travel capabilities. If you do so, you will justifiably be hailed as a hero. This courageous act may also result in you being identified as a major "planetary whistleblower," as I have been. Certainly, you can step forward with my assurances that if you do so, I will avoid any discussion of project elements that project principals would not want revealed publicly at this time... Ed, the hour is growing very late. The Gulf of Mexico is filling up with oil. The time to create a new energy infrastructure is upon us. Teleportation can be the cornerstone of the new civic infrastructure of the 21st century. Your personal testimony is crucial. Please coordinate with me and let's work towards an historic press conference with Governor Richardson in Sante Fe. The future is in our hands. Together, let's end the time travel cover-up and help create a sustainable future for all seven billion inhabitants of our planet.

Your friend in time-space, Andy
